Infuse your tracks with mojo

Celestial is a two-plugin suite for sound manglers who want to add some creative texturizing and psychoacoustic action to their tracks. Based on a modern hardware machine built in the UK and used by both mixing and mastering engineers, Celestial provides an additional layer of analog goodness to single tracks as well as full mixes.

Celestial is free until February 14, 2020.

Regroover uses Artificial-Intelligence to extract layers from within your previously recorded beats and samples. Save 89% off for a limited time only! A percentage of the proceeds from Plugin Boutique and Accusonus will be donated to LNADJ.

Discover the magic inside your drum loops which you've wanted to extract for years. Create new sounds from old or simply adjust the volume of individual elements inside a loop. Regroover uses Artificial-Intelligence to extract layers from within your previously recorded beats and samples. Once Regroover analyzes the file, you are able to make your own drum kits and combine them with external sounds to make new beats, loops, and your own unique Expansion Kits.

The promotional banner features a teal background on the left with the Accusonus logo and product name. On the right, a screenshot of the Regroover software interface is shown with a red circular '89% OFF' badge and a red price tag at the bottom right. The interface displays six layers of a drum loop with various controls and a piano roll view.

Similar to a sidechain compressor, but a thousand times more powerful and transparent. Save 40% off this unique mixing tool for a limited time. A percentage of the proceeds from Plugin Boutique and Wavesfactory will be donated to LNADJ.

Trackspacer creates space in a mix by carving the frequencies that the main track needs into another track in real time. Similar to a sidechain compressor, but a thousand times more powerful and transparent. It's considered a secret mixing weapon by many artists, producers and engineers.

What is compression?

Compression is the process of lessening the dynamic range between the loudest and quietest parts of an audio signal.

Let's take a look at the main compression parameters:

Threshold - how loud the signal has to be before compression is applied.

Ratio - how much compression is applied. For example, if the compression ratio is set for 6:1, the input signal will have to cross the threshold by 6 dB for the output level to increase by 1dB.

Attack - how quickly the compressor starts to work.

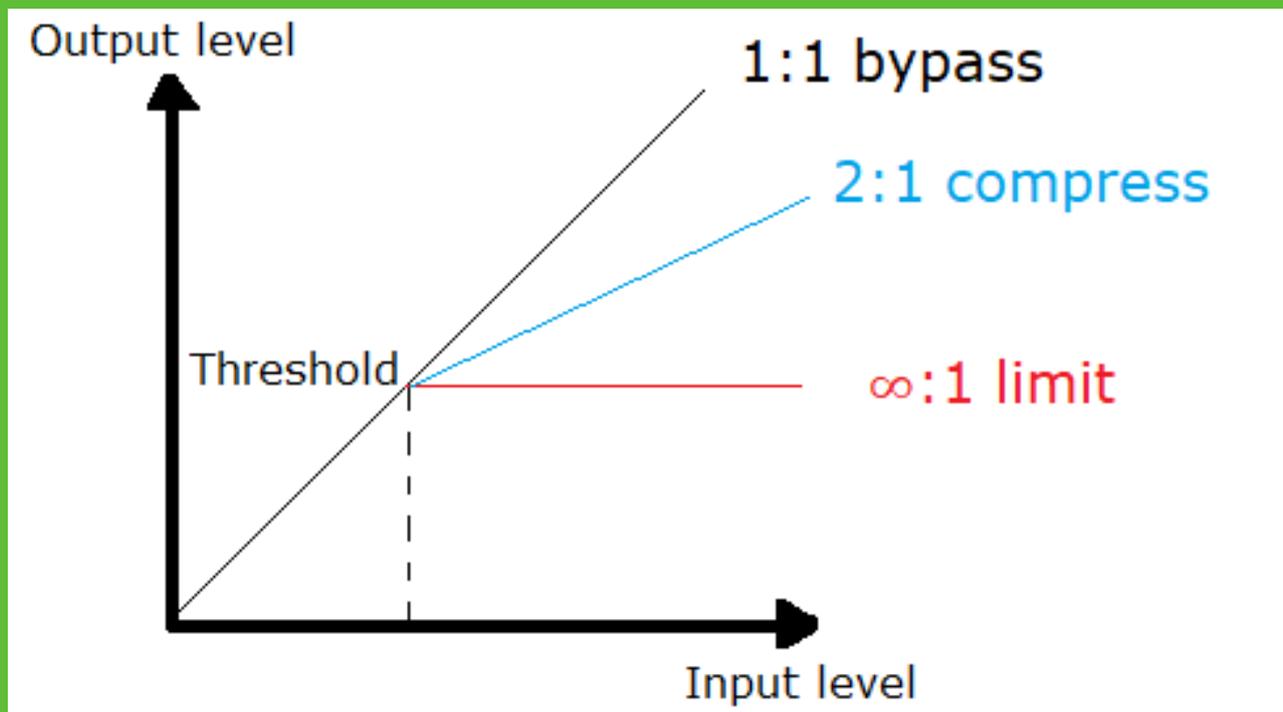

Release - how soon after the signal dips below the threshold the compressor stops.

Knee - sets how the compressor reacts to signals once the threshold is passed.

Hard Knee settings mean it clamps the signal straight away, and Soft Knee means the compression kicks in more gently as the signal goes further past the threshold.

Make-Up Gain - allows you to boost the compressed signal as compression often attenuates the signal significantly.

Output - allows you to boost or attenuate the level of the signal output from the compressor.

LA-2A Leveling Amplifier

The LA-2A Leveling Amplifier is an audio compressor invented by James F. Lawrence II, founder of the Teletronix Engineering Company in Pasadena, California in the early 1960s.

The LA-2A is a hand-wired, tube-based compressor. The average attack time is 10 milliseconds, while the release time is about 60 ms for 50% release and 0.5 to 5 seconds for full release, depending on the previous program material. The LA-2A has simple controls: a Peak-Reduction knob controls the gain of the side-chain circuit, and therefore, the gain reduction; a Gain Control for make-up gain; and a Limit/Compress switch which alters the compression ratio.

It is an excellent tool for vocals, bass and drums.

iZotope releases Ozone 9

Building on a 17-year legacy in audio mastering, Ozone 9 brings balance to your music with never-before-seen processing for low end, real-time instrument separation, and lightning-fast workflows powered by machine learning. Find the perfect vibe with an expanded Master Assistant that knows exactly what you're going for, whether it's warm analogue character or transparent loudness for streaming. Talk to more iZotope plug-ins in your session with Tonal Balance Control and blur the lines between mixing and mastering. Work faster with improved plug-in performance, smoother metering, and resizable windows.

Cockos releases Reaper 6

Cockos has announced the release of REAPER 6 which contains many under-the-hood optimizations and improvements, in addition to the many items listed in the full change log.

Features:

- FX Plug-in Embedding: Embed small versions of some plug-ins into your tracks control and mixer panels, including ReaEQ, ReaFIR, ReaXcomp, graphical JSFX plug-ins, and more.
- MIDI CC Envelopes: Handle MIDI CC data as continuous data envelopes, rather than discrete events; create smooth, musical articulations and effects.
- Auto-stretch Timebase: Automatically stretch and reconfirm audio around complex tempo changes; easily work with tempo-mapped and live-played recordings together.
- Routing Diagram: View and edit project routing using a high-level graphical patchbay emulation.

- Retina/HiDPI: Automatic rendering to HiDPI and Retina displays; new Default 6 theme supports 100%, 150% and 200% natively.
- Big Project Improvements: Vastly optimized behavior for projects with high (200+) track counts; Metal display support for massively faster screen drawing on newer macOS displays...
- and More: New theme with extensive customizability via Tweaker script; Dynamic Split improvements; import and render media with embedded transient information; per-track positive or negative playback offset; faster and higher quality samplerate conversion; and many other fixes and improvements.

The Really Useful Chord Progression Poster

CHORD PROGRESSION OVERVIEW

The Major and Minor scales are the most commonly used scales in Western music. Each of these scales contains 7 notes, and each of these notes form the 'root' of its own chord. Therefore, every Major and Minor scale has its own unique 'set' of 7 chords. There are 3 types of chord used within each set - major chords, minor chords and diminished chords. The sequence of chord types used in each set is dependent on whether the scale is Major or Minor, and is defined using a simple formula.

What is a chord? A chord is simply 2 or more notes played together, usually played at the same time. Although chords can technically contain many more notes, the most common type of chord is called a 'triad', named as such because they contain 3 notes. It is triads that we will exclusively reference throughout this poster. What is a chord progression? A chord progression is just 2 or more chords played in sequence, because they consist of notes from the same scale. Move between sets themselves to change the flow and mood of your composition. Once you're comfortable with triads you can start to introduce additional chords (such as dominant sevenths) to increase the complexity of your music. For more information on extended chords, please refer to The Really Useful Piano Poster. There are no hard and fast rules you must follow, and this method represents just one of the ways to come up with unique chord progressions that you enjoy. This poster aims to provide the building blocks for improvisation - the rest is up to you.
